

LESLIE GIBSON

Impressionist / Comedian / After Dinner Speakers / Voice Overs

Like most impressionists Leslie Gibson started out doing impressions of his teachers at school, but unlike other impressionists, his teachers thought he had a great talent and encouraged him to share it with the world.

Leslie Gibson was voted "Comic of the year" at the tender age of 26 by the Liverpool Echo Newspaper. He is known on the After Dinner circuit as The Man Of A Thousand Voices, as he can take on the identity of more than sixty top celebrities with deadly accuracy.

Leslie has appeared on such shows as The Michael Barrymore show, The Jonathan Ross Big Big Talent Show, The Weakest Link, The Big Breakfast, voice overs for The Royle Family, This Morning, and the Kelly chat show in Ireland.

Leslie is a regular on the Celebrity Golf Tour Charity events, hosted by major British Plc's, performing alongside Sir Norman Wisdom, John Miles, Tim Healy, and Stan Boardman to name a few. He has toured the UK with The Stylistics, supported Julio Inglesias & Gladys Knight at The Royal Albert Hall, and appeared at the Liverpool Summer Pop Festival with Michael Buble' & Diana Ross.

Leslie Gibson is very popular on Sports Dinners, where he has appeared the length & breadth of the country, and has worked with many of the countries leading sports personalities.

Once you've worked your way past his vast repertoire of famous voices, from Coronation Street to Eastenders, Robert De Niro to David Beckham, you find a young man with enormous talent.

With Leslie Gibson first impressions count, and remember – his next impersonation could be YOU!
